

"Confession"

Look I don't think you understand why I'm here.

It's to teach you about fear.

I'm the one you should fear,

The one to run from.

Bully, protector, those are both names that describe where I come from.

My life is Jericho,

It's a war zone,

Teenage kid with crazy hormones.

Never felt what it's like to be normal.

Me and outcast are quite formal

We crash, clash within one and other.

Were siblings not sisters just brothers.

Destruction's my cousin.

Disaster's my father.

Forget me talkin' about my daughter,

The monster that I created.

Resurrection is the one they hated.

Made a good song and they all debated letting me in.

Knowin' that I have sinned.

Knowin' gangster's my middle name.

Broke is my last,

And screw up is my first.

But that's not even the worst part of it.

Cuz I've only told you part of it.

But all I show is that part of it.

Cuz the rest I just don't have the heart for it.
