

Owl

Blinks

And turns its head

Almost all the way around

Angles it to hear its prey

Silent beating wings soar

Through the starry night sky

Snatches

An unsuspecting mouse

Claws clench, lifting it skyward

To waiting, hungry, squeaking owlets

by Talya
Talya Erbil